In contemporary India, once seen as a significant demographic dividend for society, youth are developing wrong attitudes towards life and society, coupled with unemployable skills. Consequently, they find themselves drawn into anarchic situations with false hopes. In such circumstances, Swami Vivekananda's exhortations remain timeless and relevant. There is a pressing need for a profound understanding of ancient wisdom from Vedanta and Yoga practitioners, alongside modern insights from industry leaders, accomplished professionals, youth leaders, and key educators who follow Vivekananda's teachings. These interactions can empower the youth substantially by integrating the practical aspects of Swami Vivekananda's ideals.

The workshop is meticulously curated, featuring eminent speakers from various disciplines and backgrounds. These eminent thought leaders have invariably been influencing youth as a part of their accomplishments. They will share insights, experiences, and best practices supported by case studies, focusing on four core perspectives of Vivekananda's ideals: Dharma, Youth Leadership, Mentoring, and Studentship. These perspectives will address contemporary problems and challenges facing Indian youth as well as experiences in resolving them. The workshop includes several 20-minute 3C (Clear, Concise, and Compelling) Talks and a couple of hour-long rapid-fire Panel Discussions.

Program Schedules and Video recordings of earlier NWEY workshops are available at NWEY18, NWEY19, NWEY20, NWEY21, NWEY22 web pages of the Vivekananda Janoarthana Trust Website.
